KANSAS SOLONS SWITCHES HELP

Jardine Is Quizzed By Senate Committee On Farm Bill

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—Although the white house withheld comment administration officials elsewhere indicated a belief today that William M. Jardine, of Kansas, had virtually been decided on by President Coolidge for secretary of agriculture.

The Kansas delegation in congress, which once endorsed J. J. Mohler, also of Kansas, for the post, met and changed its support to Mr. Jardine. Members of the delegation have been in constant consultation with Mr. Coolidge, but they declined to say whether they had definite information as to his decision.

Mr. Jardine, himself, who is a member of the President's agricultural conference, conferred with Mr. Coolidge today. Officials said their visits had to do with agricultural questions but declined to go into details.

Sand Cave Hero

W.B. MILLER

William Burks ("Skeets") Miller, of Louisville, Ky., a newspaper reporter there, proved himself the outstanding hero of the efforts to free Floyd Collins from Sand Cave, Cave City, Ky. Miller made many perilous trips to the imprisoned man, and, being small of stature, was able to do much of the work for releasing Collins. He had succeeded in removing the rock which trapped Collins when forced to flee because of another cave-in.

GRUBB DECIDES IN FAVOR OF DECATUR

Bond Case Decided By Federal Jurist In Birmingham

Judge Grubb, of the federal court, yesterday handed down the decision that the city of Decatur, Morgan county, and the Alabama Traction company, were not liable to the First National Bank of Columbus, Ohio, for bonds which the plaintiff held.

The case was heard before Judge Grubb in Birmingham some time ago, the defendants being represented by City Attorney Callahan, and the plaintiff by Attorney Smith, of Brewton, Ala.

The bonds held by the Ohio bank were issued for certain paving on Lee and Ferry streets in 1912. The court held that inasmuch as the city of Decatur was under 6,000 population, the municipality was not responsible for the bonds, the property which was assessed being liable.

BRIBERY EFFORTS DESCRIBED AGAIN

Witness Tells Of The Alleged Attempts to Sell Paroles

(Associated Press)

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 11—Alleged efforts of Lawrence Riehl, Columbus, O. to sell him a parole from the Atlanta federal penitentiary today were described in United States district court by Graham Baughn, one of the men convicted in the Savannah "rum ring" exposure.

Baughn gave his testimony in the trial of Riehl, A. E. Sartain and L. G. Fletcher, the latter two formerly warden and deputy respectively of the penitentiary on charges of conspiracy and bribery.

Riehl attempted to sell him the parole for $2,500 early in 1924 when he came to Savannah with Thomas P. Hayden, then a chaplain at the prison to collect $10,500 for special privileges to be granted several men convicted in the rum ring exposure, when they entered the penitentiary. Baughn Baughn testified he had already put up $1,500 for a soft job and he found that this ratio held true toward to feel like giving any more money.

POLL PAYMENTS LOWER THIS YEAR

Smallest Number Are Paid In County In Several Years

Poll tax receipts for Morgan county for the year 1925 amounted to 2,207 taxes paid in, the smallest number collected in several years, according to the records.

Of these, 175 were for back years, which leaves 2,302 voters, who paid for the privilege of suffrage this year. Besides this, however, there are many voters exempt from paying poll tax, including all veterans of the world war, those over the age limit, and those just coming into their majority, who are not compelled to pay poll tax for the first year.

It was found that women figured prominently in the tax receipts. Of the 655 receipts issued in Albany, 27 a were to women. Although the count was not made separately, it was found that this ratio held true throughout

TEMPERATURE DROP GENERAL FORECAST, RISE DUE THURSDAY

Fair Weather Predicted In the Washington Forecast Area

FROST IS LIKELY SOUTH TO FLORIDA

"Storm Warnings" Are Reported on Whole Atlantic Coast

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—The temperature will fall decidedly almost generally in the Washington forecast district this afternoon or tonight and a heavy frost is probable tonight in the east coast and South Atlantic states, as far as extreme northern Florida, according to the weather bureau report today.

The temperature will rise slowly Thursday in the lower Ohio Valley, Tennessee and the west gulf states, and in sections farther east on Friday.

Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic coast from Jacksonville, Fla., to Eastport, Maine. A disturbance that was central over southwestern Missouri Tuesday morning has moved eastward to the Appalachian region with slowly increasing intensity. The disturbance off the Pacific coast has made very little progress eastward.

The eastern disturbance will move northeastward and it will be attended by rain or snow Thursday in the lake region, the extreme upper Ohio valley and the middle Atlantic and north Atlantic states.

Otherwise the weather will be generally fair tonight and Thursday, east of the Mississippi river.

BEE LINE HIGHWAY IN FAIR CONDITION

(Associated Press)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Feb. 11—Alabama now has approximately 980 miles of highways of a higher type than water-bound macadam which were improved with state funds, according to a compilation, just completed by the state highway commission. Of the 980 miles of improved roads on January 1, there were about ninety miles of concrete it was stated. These figures do not include the mileage improved with county funds, it was pointed out by officials who stated that the approximate road mileage in Alabama including both improved roads outside of cities and towns was 56,550 miles.

Seven percent of the present highway system receives federal aid, making a total of approximately 3,958 miles it was said. State funds are not limited to this mileage.

Of the ninety miles of paved roads completed on January 1, 41.6 were completed during the year 1924 at a cost of $1,291,684.95 while there were 15,815 linear feet of bridge work completed at a cost of $1,478,849.44. The road program of the commission runs from June 25 to June 26 and the estimated mileage to be constructed during 1925 is not available at the present time, it was stated.

The 1925 program of construction will however, eclipse that of the past year, according to W. S. Keller, state highway engineer who pointed out that the commission will probably sell seven million dollars worth of bonds of the twenty five million dollar issue which will be available for construction purposes in addition to the amount of federal aid and the program under construction at present. Only 12 million dollars worth of bonds have been sold to date, leaving thirteen million yet to be sold, he continued. The sale of seven million dollars in bonds this spring will carry the work well into 1926.

Baughn testified he had already good, Mr. Keller stated, although some sections need improvement and

FORD ELECTED AS COUNTY LEADER OF RELIGIOUS COUNCIL

Campaign Planned By Council Members at Conference Here

JUDGE HOBBS IS SPEAKER

Interesting Address On Rise of Crime Is Delivered

J. C. Ford, county farm demonstrator, was elected chairman of the council of religious education of Morgan county at the organization of the council at the Central Methodist church of Albany on Tuesday.

The object of the new council is to carry on the work of the state religious council in this section, in the same manner as the larger organization is now working, for the purpose of eliminating religious illiteracy, especially among the younger generations.

All the ministers in the county will act as directors of the council, and representative laymen will be elected by each church to meet with them. The remaining officers will be elected at the first meeting of the directors, and will hold office for one year.

The work of the council will be carried on throughout the year. Volunteers will be enlisted to carry on the program, much as is now being done by the state council.

The meeting of the state council yesterday was proclaimed very successful. The visiting delegates, officers and speakers inquired into the local conditions, especially that of the morality found in the high schools. A survey was studied of the churches through the rural districts, in an effort to learn if the present buildings and ministers were adequate for the need.

A good crowd was present to hear Judge Hobbs, circuit judge from Dallas county, speak on the cause of crime. Judge Hobbs stated that perjury on the witness stand in court was one of the greatest evils against justice, and traced the origin back to the early training of the violators of this law.

The cause of crime, and the criminal intents of the younger people, Judge Hobbs said, was often traceable to the fact that the criminals had not had that training of the church which is free to them, but which is not carried to them forcefully. He stated that religious training should be carried to the people rather than sit idly by and watch them go without it.

Lawrence County Has School Problem

MOULTON, Ala., Feb. 11—Special—

The school officials of Lawrence county have been making every effort to run the county schools five months as usually this year but it appears now that unless an unusually large amount is secured from the state revolving fund apportioned sometime toward the last of February, it is received, public funds will be exhausted at the end of four and one-half months.

This is clearly brought out in the report for county conditions as made to the state department of education this week in applying for an apportionment of that fund. The revolving fund is apportioned among those counties that have the three mill, and the one mill county school tax, employ a supervisor of elementary schools and follow an adopted and approved salary schedule. There seems to be no way in the county to extend the terms another year but to lower salaries and to do this as a rule, means to reduce the efficiency of the schools.

Additional sleepers will be provided for the handling on regular trains to and from Washington.

Leader of the Fight On Ford Offer Against Underwood Act

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11—Representative Hull, republican, Iowa, in a formal statement made today declared opposition to the conference report for the disposition of Muscle Shoals.

"It is an adroit attempt to jam through Congress during the closing hours of a dying session a bill disposing of a tremendous government valuable," said Hull.

"This bill has never been considered and under the special rules of this administration it cannot be amended on the floor of the house or the senate," he added.

The member lead the fight against the Ford offer last session.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 11—The Tennessee senate today suggested that congress observe the following:

"That the project be maintained so as to be available to the United States in time of war emergency; that the power be used for fertilizer production in the time of peace; that development of power and navigation on the Tennessee River and its tributaries be forwarded; that power not used for fertilizer be sold for distribution by state, community, company or individuals."

SHAFT THROUGH TOP OF SAND CAVE NOW NEARING PRISONER

Drillers Do Not Expect To Extricate Man Before Dark

END OF THE CAVE THRILLER IS SEEN

Emergency Operating Room Erected By Red Cross

(Associated Press)

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 11—Barring unlooked for developments indications early this afternoon were that Floyd Collins would not be extricated until late tonight from Sand Cave.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 11—A definite connection between the rescue shaft and the tunnel in which Floyd Collins has been imprisoned for twelve days, at ten o'clock this morning was expected to be reached very soon, it was declared by H. T. Carmichael, superintending the sinking of the shaft.

"I am prepared at almost any time to find a definite connection with the shaft and the cavern," Carmichael said. "More crevices are being found rocks are getting larger and sand has given away to gravel and some more cave crickets are reported by the diggers."

Twenty hours was given by rescuers as the maximum time they expected to take to extricate Collins. The rescuers said if he was not out of the hole in that time they would be sorely disappointed. They are hopeful of reaching Collins much sooner, saying it might occur at any minute.

For the first time the amplifier test across the electric light wire leading down to Collins failed completely this morning to record anything in the head phone.

The last successful test at midnight repeated the breathing sounds at the regular rate of 18 per minute, but H. G. Lane, manager of the electric apparatus at the cave indicated that the globe was out of Collin's socket or burned out.

Barring infection or gangrene from his cramped eleven day imprisonment, the physicians hoped that they can save Collins if he is reached soon. Every possible emergency need of the physicians has been prepared in the Red Cross tent, operating room for transfusion, amputation or whatever else his condition might need.

The military board, under Brigadier General Denhardt, which is investigating the early efforts of rescue and the rumors of hoax, crime and frame-up, was to interrogate H. T. Carmichael, directing the shaft work, when the board resumed its session today.

William "Skeets" Miller, Louisville Courier-Journal reporter and Dr. Funkhauser, geologist of the University of Kentucky were the principal witnesses yesterday.

H. T. Carmichael in charge of the sinking of the shaft said that a sudden striking of the cave in which Collins is held would be the only unexpected development today.

R. W. Funkhauser of the University of Kentucky geological department later expressed the opinion that unless some unforeseen good fortune came that they would be unable to reach Collins for a day or two. He said that the rescuers faced considerable digging after they reached the main tunnel in which Collins is entombed.

Tip For Beginners.

Solve this puzzle by comparing the synonymous listed in the "Horizontal" and "Vertical" columns with the number of spaces extending crosswise or downward on the diagram, as the case may be. If a word occurs to you meaning substantially the same as the synonym and the correct number of letters to fit in the spaces between its number and the first shaded stop following, write it in lightly. Work away the small words, the "easy" words, first, and they will give you plenty of clues to the difficult ones.

CHAPTER XXIV

CARTAGENA

Having crossed the Caribbean in the teeth of contrary winds, it was not until the early days of April that the French fleet hove in sight of Cartagena and M. Rivarol summoned a council aboard his flagship to determine the method of assault.

"It is of importance mesieurs," he told them, "that we take the city by surprise, not only before it can put itself into a state of defense; but before it can remove its treasures inland. I propose to land a force sufficient to achieve this to the north of the city to-night after dark."

He was heard respectfully and approvingly by his officers, scornfully by Captain Blood. Blood was the only one amongst them who knew exactly what lay ahead. Two years ago he had himself considered a raid upon the place, and he had actually made a survey of it. The Baron's proposal was one to be expected from a commander whose knowledge of Cartagena was only such as might be derived from maps.

Geographically and strategically considered, it is a curious place. It stands almost four-square, screened east and north by hills, and it may be said to face south upon the inner or two harbors by which it is normally approached. The entrance to the outer harbor, which is in reality a lagoon some three miles across, lies through a neck known as the Boca Chica—or Little Mouth—and defended by a fort. A long strip of densely wooded land to westward acts here as a natural breakwater, and as the inner harbor is approached, another strip of land thrusts across at right angles from the first, towards the mainland on the east. Just short of this it ceases, leaving a deep but very narrow channel, a veritable gateway, into the secure and sheltered inner harbor. Another fort defends this second passage. East and north of Cartagena lies the mainland, which may be left out of account. But to the west and northwest this city, so well guarded on every other side, lies directly open to the sea. It stands back beyond a half-mile of beach, and besides this and the stout walls which fortify it, would appear to have no other defenses.

It remained for Captain Blood to explain the difficulties when M. de Rivarol informed him that the honor or opening the assault in the manner which he prescribed was to be accorded to the buccaneers. Captain Blood smiled sardonically and said, "I do not know the ways of buccaneers. If you persist, Cartagena will be drenched in blood, and whatever the outcome the King of France will not have been well served."

"M. le Baron, I must speak frankly, and you must suffer it. My men are on the point of mutiny. They demand to know when this sharing of the spoil is to take place, and when they are to receive their fifth for which their articles provide. The men know that it exceeds the enormous total of forty millions. They insist that the treasure itself be produced and weighed in their presence. I warn you that unless you yield to a demand that I consider just and therefore uphold, you may look for trouble, and it would not surprise me if you never leave Cartagena at all, nor convey a single gold piece home to France."

"Am I to understand that you are threatening me?"

"You do not know the ways of buccaneers. If you persist, Cartagena will be drenched in blood, and whatever the outcome the King of France will not have been well served."

The end of it all was that M. de Rivarol gave a promise at once to make the necessary preparations, and if Captain Blood and his officers would wait upon him on board the Victorielle tomorrow morning, the treasure should be produced, weighed in their presence and their fifth share surrendered there and then into their own keeping.

Among the buccaneers that night there was hilarity over the sudden abatement of M. de Rivarol's monstrous pride. But when the next dawn broke over Cartagena, they had the explanation of it. The only ships to be seen in the harbour were the Arabella and the Elizabeth, both riding at anchor and the Ariosto and the Lachesis careened on the beach for repair of the damage sustained in the bombardment. The French ships were gone.

Blood was reduced to despair. He followed now, Heaven knew what would happen to the town. Unable to reach a decision, his own men and Haghthorpe took the matter off his hands, eager to give chase to Rivarol.

12 Years Ago From The Daily of TODAY February 10, 1913Gas rates were lowered last night by the Albany city council.Rev. H. B. Woodward preached a powerful sermon Sunday at the Central Baptist church on "Christian Service."Cheaper credits were asked last night by the chamber of commerce in resolution adopted and transmitted to Governor O'Neal.Chancellor W. H. Simpson is holding court in Tuscumbia this week.Miss Lottie Phelps left last night for her future home in Booneville, Ark.Mrs. W. R. Smith is still confined to her home, but is much improved from a rheumatic attack.The members of the First Methodist church, Decatur, have installed a white way in front of the church.The U. D. C. will meet with Mrs. D. C. Almon Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.A DAILY PRAYER.—We pray that we may learn to love the story of Thy love for us, like children who love to hear the old stories of childhood over and over again.Two trunk line railways, the deep and blue Tennessee, what more could be offered outside capital that is looking for a locality with a transportation system?There is one thing that Power company can say for itself. They were of the opinion that the power would be off until noon and it was on at 11:10. That's real service for you, if you can forget that from 7:30 until 11:10 not a wheel turned nor a machine hummed while you paid the difference.REPRESENTATIVE SHERWOOD TAKES FINAL FLING AS CUSTOMS AS THEY EXIST TODAYIsaac R. Sherwood, 90-year-old veteran of the union forces, and for 52 years a democratic representative in the house from Ohio, was defeated for reelection in November. He will pass out of service in the house on March 4.Saturday he arose in the house to make his farewell address to his colleagues and he availed himself of the opportunity to hand a few jolts to complacent people who believe that "all is well with the world."As he concluded his remarkable address, Representative Steadman, democrat of North Carolina, and the last survivor of the grey clad heroes in the lower branch of congress, led the cheering which was accorded the union veteran.Representative Sherwood delivered a solemn warning to his colleagues against the rising wave of crime. In the 52 years he has spent as a member of the house, he has witnessed change after change, not only in the conduct of the nation's law-makers, but in the people these solons represent."It is 52 years since I first drifted into this great body of honored citizens," Sherwood said. "That was the forty-third congress. I am almost the last leaf on the tree.
Of the 242 representatives and 74 senators of that day, only Uncle Joe Cannon and I are alive."General Grant was just starting on his second term.
I remember the appropriations for the salary, clerk hire, and up-keep of the White House that year were $42,500.
This year we gave our president $500,000, including the Mayflower."We had to take our pens in hand to answer kicking letters from our constituents. There were no typewriters.
We had no steering committee running down to the White House to find out what legislation the president favored."We had no tariff experts to confuse rudimentary congressmen. We had no secretary of agriculture; hence the farmers were contented and reasonably prosperous."The country had no automobiles, no wireless, no airplanes, no canned music. Prize fighting was not then our popular entertainment. We had no moving pictures.
Painted actresses were not then our popular stars of the stage. We had no jazz music.""The grand plays of Shakespeare and plays of high moral import had not been supplanted by the vulgar and smutted vaudeville.""We now have the murder record of the world. Last year we had 12 times as many murders as England. The record of banditry and robbery, and all crimes against the person and property is alarming.""There is a spirit of indifference toward the soldiers of the World War, the only warhas produced no president. We are evidently short of patriotism."I am reminded that this may be my last talk on this floor. During my remaining span of life, the years I spent in comradeship with so many splendid gentlemen, in this historic chamber, will be my most delightful and sacred memories."

YOUR INCOME TAX

Business expenditures are not always business expenses within the meaning of the income tax law. For example, a merchant may build an addition to his warehouse at a cost of $100,000. This is a capital expenditure for an addition to his assets. Capital expenditures are not deductible. Distinction is made between expenditures for an asset and expenditures in connection with an asset. If the merchant, during the year, should spend $500 for repairs to his warehouse, such as painting the roof or replacing broken windows, he may deduct such amount from gross income as a business expense, provided his plant or property account is not increased by this amount.

Medical, law or other professional books, machinery, tools, implements, or surgical instruments purchased by a taxpayer for his use in his business, trade, or profession and which are of a permanent character are capital assets, and their cost is not allowable as a deduction. A farmer may not deduct the cost of a threshing machine or tractor, these being capital expenditures, but it is allowed to deduct the cost of hoes, rakes and small tools which are used up in the course of a year or two in farming operations.

The purchase price of an automobile, even when used wholly for business or professional purposes, is not deductible, but is regarded as an investment of capital. The cost of gasoline, repairs, and upkeep of an automobile is deductible if used wholly in business. If used partly for business and partly for the pleasure or convenience of the taxpayer or his family, such cost may be apportioned. Only the proportion of such cost attributable to business purposes is deductible as a necessary expense.

ALL CLASSES HELPING TO COMPLETE THE CATHEDRAL OF ST. JOHN, THE DIVINEVisitors to New York for many years have seen the towering cathedral of St. John, the Divine. The building has been underway for nearly fifty years and its site on Morningside Heights has been a mecca for visitors for decades. Ten more years will be required to complete the edifice, it is estimated.There is underway in New York at the present time a campaign to raise the funds necessary for its completion, estimated to be in the neighborhood of $15,000,000. Joining in this movement are people of all classes and every denomination. The Anniston Star remarks:To the credit of New York, the campaign for funds for the stately edifice is being joined in heartily by all religious faiths. Some of the largest donations have been made by people who are not Episcopalians.
Jews have given liberally to the fund, Tammany society, which embraces in its membership many Tammany Hall leaders who are Catholics, has joined in the campaign in behalf of the cathedral. Millionaires have given hundreds of thousands of dollars to swell the fund, newsboys have given their pennies to help in the work. Men of moderate means have given sums that may require them to make sacrifices in their home and business expenditures, widows have given their mites, beggars have given their pittance, and the Wall Street broker has shared his profits with the great church that is to stand as an emblem of New York's religious side.The movement in behalf of the Cathedral of Saint John the Divine is a remarkable one in many respects.
Nothing like it ever has been attempted before.
It is doing much to smooth out religious differences, to break down the barriers of creed, to remove the too frequent religious jealousies, and to bring all of the people of every faith into fellowship for the creating of a community spirit of religious unbuilding. In a city where there are more Italians than in Rome, more Jews than in Jerusalem, more Greeks than in Athens, and more people in fact of every nationality than can be found in any other city on earth, such a unity of effort must be surprising, even to New Yorkers.In rallying to the support of the Episcopal cathedral, worldly New Yorkers are showing that down beneath the surface New York has a soul and that it can be reached and stirred to noble actions. It is no small thing in a place like New York for the theatres to give benefit performances to help build a great religious shrine, that is to be to New York what St. Paul's is to London, and St. Peter's to Rome.
It is no small thing for a city like New York to rally its millionaires, its business men, its brokers, its actors, its working classes, its professional men, its beggars and perhaps even its crooks, to the support of a movement to build a church upon a hill, even if that church is destined to be the greatest in the land in size and grandeur.The history of the cathedral dates back to 1873, when a charter was granted by the legislature. The grounds cost $850,000 and the tract comprises 11 1/2 acres. In architectural design the edifice is French Gothic and it is declared to be the third largest cathedral in the world, being outranked only by St. Peter's at Rome and the cathedral at Seville, Spain. When finished it will cost approximately $20,000,000, and will have a seating capacity of 7,000 persons with accommodations for additional thousands standing.The cathedral will have many works of art. One of these is the Potter memorial pulpit, made of Knoxville marble. The choir stalls rise in four tiers on both sides of the choir proper and are of carved American oak.The eight great columns in a semi-circle around the sanctuary are declared by the New York World to be among the marvels of the cathedral. They are approached in size only in St. Isaac's cathedral in Leningrad. The shafts in light gray granite from Bear Island, near Vinal Haven, in Maine, were quarried as monoliths and turned on a special lathe which, itself especially built, cost $50, 000. After many attempts it was found the weight in the center was too great for any stone to withstand and the contractor obtained permission to make the shaft in two pieces. The lower stone in each is 38 feet high and weighs 90 tons. The upper stone is 17 feet high and weighs 40 tons. Each column cost $25,000, exclusive of the cost of erection.Former Vice President and Mrs. Morton gave the organ, which contains 7,000 pipes and a chime, connected by electric wires with the console located in the gallery on the south side of the choir screen. The console has four manuals and two octaves of pedals, 106 speaking stops, 31 couplers and 23 pistons.In every respect the cathedral is to be a complete community shrine. The present effort underway for funds from every walk of life indicates that statements that New York has lost its soul in its mad pursuit of gain and pleasure is a libel of the

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincerely felt appreciation for the kindnesses shown by our friends in our recent bereavement. The loss of our dear mother and grandmother was a severe test made easier by the loving bonds of friendship bound closer in our hour of grief.We wish to express our appreciation for the many and beautiful floral arrangements and for the use of the cars. We wish to express, also, our sincere appreciation to our family physician, Dr. F. L. Chenault for his untiring efforts and to the telephone operators for their most attentive service.Mrs. Fred W. Smith and daughter.

Every Day in the Month
Twelve Months in the Year

More motorists every day come to the conclusion that for year 'round utility there is no more practical or convenient car than a Ford.

The Ford Sedan is roomy, comfortable, and attractive in appearance—inside and out.

In city traffic it handles and parks so easily that thousands drive it who could readily afford costlier cars.

On country roads it comes through where heavier cars frequently cannot. Such qualities as these have brought the Ford its well-deserved reputation as the "Universal Car."

SOCIAL CALENDAR

WEDNESDAY

Loyd-Harvey wedding at high noon at the Westminster Presbyterian church.

Dance for Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Nichols, 9 p. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Nichols.

THURSDAY

Thursday Club, Mrs. H. R. Daniel.

Thursday Afternoon Bridge Club, Mrs. R. M. Buchanan.

Thursday Eight, Mrs. W. G. Foster.

Canal Street Rock Club, Mrs. J. B. Fleming.

Silk Stocking Club, Mrs. Garner Pride.

SATURDAY

Saturday Bridge Club, Miss Bluet to Wallace.

RUTHALIAN CLUB

An open meeting of the Ruthalian Club was enjoyed on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. A. Bowles when each member was privileged to invite a friend.

A typical but short Ruthalian program was given with Mrs. G. C. Parker and Mrs. T. A. Caddell as the joint leaders. The numbers were given in a very delightful manner and between the club numbers, a musical program was enjoyed when the following took part: Mrs. R. M. McGlathery sang a plaintive and sweet melody; Professor Katcher gave two violin numbers accompanied on the piano by Mrs. H. O. Troup, Mrs. Frank Morrow charmed her hearers with a vocal solo, Miss Gladys Bernardi gave a very appropriate and enjoyable reading which closed the program.

The hostess then invited the members and guests into the dining room and served tea, sandwiches, candies and nuts. The dining room looked especially pretty with lace covers on the dining table and vases of carnations lending color. She was assisted by Mrs. Georgia Miller, Mrs. C. H. Eyster, Mrs. A. H. Higson and Mrs. Frank Morrow.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON

BRIDGE CLUB

The Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club was prettily entertained on Tuesday by Mrs. R. H. Wolcott and she had as supplementary guests Mrs. W. R. Smith and her house guest, Mrs. Lewis of Princeton, Ill., and Miss Lolla Bowers.

At the club game, Mrs. Early Phinney was the lucky contestant. Mrs. Lewis was presented the guest souvenir and later all were served a delectable ice cream and cake and nuts. Individual packages of hard candies were passed to those present as favors.

TUESDAY CLUB

Mrs. W. M. Voorhies was a lovely hostess to the Tuesday club this week and Mrs. Will Wyker and Mrs. Rufus Peerson the first and second club prizes and Mrs. S. W. Irwin won the guest trophy.

A delicious salad course was served at the conclusion of the interesting games of bridge to the club members and the guests who were Mrs. W. T. Lowe and Mrs. S. W. Irwin.

REHEARSAL PARTY FOR HARVEY-LOYD WEDDING PARTY

A fitting climax to the many lovely courtesies that have been extended to Miss Mary Harvey and Mr. Elmer C. Loyd, and the members of their bridal party was the rehearsal party given by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Harvey on Tuesday evening following the rehearsal for the wedding which was an event of noon today. Their home was elaborately decorated with smilax and cut flowers and the many lights were shaded in pink.

Punch was served throughout the evening and at a late hour a delicious salad and ice course was served just preceding which the beautiful large wedding cake was cut and Miss Amanda Pride cut the ring.

TRINITY LADIES ENTERTAIN

The Missionary Society of Trinity entertained the ladies of the community at a unique party on a Sunday afternoon at three o'clock at the high school building. This was called a "White Elephant" party as each member of the society brought an article which had proven "white elephant" on her hands and these were placed in a receptacle representing a white elephant.

A number of contests were enjoyed during the afternoon each carrying out the same idea of the white elephant. The receptacle into which the tokens were placed was then brought out and put in the center of the room and as each visitor marched by she drew out a package.

This proved to be a very amusing and enjoyable entertainment.

MRS. RAYBURN NEVILLE HOSTESS TO THE LADIES MISSIONARY SOCIETY OF TRINITY

Mrs. Rayburn Neville opened her hospitable home to the ladies of the rated ferns and American Beauty roses. Mrs. Herndon had charge of the program which was instructive and interesting. Mrs. Neville, Mrs. Buchett and Miss Anne Sue Morris each taking part.

The president conducted a short business session at the close of the program and later the hostess assisted by her two attractive little daughters served delightful refreshments during the social hour.

A. D. Jervis and Jervis Jones are in Atlanta, Ga., attending the convention of the ice companies.

T. E. Jones is improving after undergoing a serious operation at the Moulton street infirmary.

D. D. McGehee left Monday night for Knoxville, Tenn., called to the bedside of Mrs. A. E. Dooley who is very ill.

P. H. Sandlin Jr., is quite sick at the home of his parents in south Alabama.

Mr. J. D. Ligon and Mr. P. B. Hale are in Birmingham today on business having gone down in Mr. Hale's car.

AMUSEMENTS

J. Jos. Clifford who represents the act of 1,000 laughs will be the feature attraction at the Princess Thursday, Friday and Saturday in a daring demonstration of psychology and hypnotism. Clifford has broken away from the traditional performance offered by the old time hypnotist and strikes out in a radically different way and uses entirely original methods. He claims to be thoroughly scientific and challenges any performer now before the public to duplicate either the quality of his work or the uniform success that attends his demonstrations. His performance while mystifying in its essential character is thoroughly humorous and pitched on a high plane. One of his remarkable demonstrations is that of bloodless surgery, therein he shows that he can absolutely control the circulation of the blood, in a subject's body. Nor is the consent of the subject essential—if Clifford wills the subject to sleep there is no escaping it.

Clifford has just finished a tour of the leading Keith vaudeville houses of the country, having just completed an engagement at the Princess theater in Nashville where he was the headline attraction.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Jack Sizemore vs.
Elizabeth Sizemore.
Circuit Court, Morgan County,
Alabama, in equity.

In this cause, it appears to the register from the affidavit of Solicitor for complaint, that defendant Elizabeth Sizemore is a non-resident of Alabama, whose residence and post office address are unknown after diligent inquiry. It is therefore ordered by the register that publication be made once a week for four consecutive weeks in the Albany-Decatur Daily, a newspaper published in Morgan County, requiring said defendant to plead, answer or demur to the bill of complaint in this cause by February 28, 1925, or in thirty days thereafter a decree pro confesso may be taken against her.

Kearns Denies Rumor That Dempsey Will Toss Rings Togs Aside, Champion Agrees

Regardless of the rumors that have been flying about to the effect that Jack Dempsey will toss aside his silk ring togs, Jack Kearns, manager of the Utah Mauers says that the champion will not vacate the title that he will fight at anytime his manager gives the word. Kearns said that he has three bouts in prospect for the champion with Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul. One of these offers came from Rickard and the other from two California sources that Kearns failed to give out information on.

Harry Wills, negro contender, is still clambering for battle and much of it, but it seems that the ears of the critics and the promoters are deaf to his wails. If Wills ever gets a crack at the title it will be his last. Dempsey demonstrated that he could end a man's ring career when he battered Carpenter in the "Battle of the Century." Gorgeous Georges hasn't been in physical fitness since that memorable fight and it isn't likely that he will again be in the big tops fighting for huge purses. Wills is very likely to be served the same dish as Dempsey will be facing more than an ordinary opponent. He will be facing a man who has thrown every sort of insult at him for the past three years. It has even been mentioned that the champion is afraid of the negro and it isn't likely that any such banter will rest lightly in the champion's thoughts if the two are finally matched.

Regarding the story told of Dempsey's dislike for Kearns the manager made it known that the champion was one of his best friends and that they had never been otherwise. It was further said that had the writer not been a woman that the champion would likely have demonstrated hisistic talents, but this isn't at all in keeping with the story told by Dempsey, he says that at one time he allowed a man to slap his face without and fistcuff and that he never intended to fight outside the ring, that ring must be gold plated to induce a fight.

TRINITY GIRLS DEFEAT THE FALKVILLE GIRLS BY 16-1

The Trinity Girls basketball team defeated the Falkville Girls at Falkville for the second time this season in a one-sided battle in which the Falkville team tossed but one foul, that in the first period. The Falkville Girls entered the game full of fight and vim, but were unable to locate the wicker while their defense seemed unable to stop the Trinity forwards.

Now that the city league cage season is closed anyone might come forward with an all city pick a composite of the four teams that have been embattled during the past two months. Here is our pick, let us hear from you.

Forwards, Roper, Louisville and Nashville Y. M. C. A. splendid floor work, accurate under the basket and a genius at long shooting tactics.

Forward, Johnson, Albany high school, fast, shifty, accurate passer, good on difficult angle shots.

Center, Hurst, Albany high school, most effective on close in shots, rangy enabling tip off, a consistent point maker.

Guard and captain, Ellison, Louisville and Nashville Y. M. C. A. experienced fast, effective in breaking up passes and backboard tactics. Rangy and heavy. Picked as leader for his ability at cool thinking and engendering good spirit of sportsmanship and fight into his team.

Guard Braswell, Decatur, experienced, weighty, a cool and determined fighter at defense, good dribbler but poor on shooting.

Coach, Webb, Albany high.

Moulton News

The Lawrence County board of revenue at its regular meeting, Monday, took action upon one of the most vital questions ever placed before it, when it was decided to establish a county health unit on the first of the next July; the unit consists of a county health officer who is a qualified physician, a health nurse, a sanitary inspector and an office assistant. The action requires an appropriation by the county of five thousand dollars by the state and the federal government.

Lawrence county is the last of the Tennessee Valley counties to take favorable action on the problem although appeals had been made earnestly before the board within the past six months, the board has hesitated to act favorably though sincerely in sympathy with the work, because of the financial condition of the county which owes a considerable amount besides a debt of $123,000 to be met in 1942 and for which it is said, but little provision has as yet been made. The action of the board especially meets the approval of the school people of the county since it promises examination of the school children and a location of tuberculosis sufferers. Petitions signed by several hundred citizens of the county were presented from Hatton and Town Creek, from the Commercial Club of Courtland and from the Parent-Teachers Association of Moulton.

The farmers of Lawrence county are busy sowing oats and making other preparations for crops in their season; a hard rain Sunday night has almost lost its effect in the fields by the warm spring like days following.

The building committee of the Lawrence County high school building is making another drive this week for funds to complete the structure which promises to be one of the best in North Alabama. It is hoped that the school may get the use of the building before the term closes.

The next regular meeting for the Lawrence County Board of Education is announced for Friday, February 27, 1925.

Announcement was received in Moulton Sunday that John H. Day was the successful bidder for carrying the mail from Decatur to Moulton, contract to begin Monday, February 16, 1925. Mr. Day's bid, it is understood, was for $1,750 annually from above date to June 30, 1928. The terms of the contract require the mail to be brought twice daily to Moulton on the six week days and once on Sunday; it also, it is understood, carries with it the privilege of taking passengers on the conveyance.

Mr. Day is at present the principal of the Mount Moriah school which he has held for several years.

Telegrams to Mrs. Lawrence Simpson, give the information that her mother, Mrs. Clara Stewart, of Hanford, Calif., is very ill. Mrs. Stewart and her daughters, Misses Clara and Ruth, moved to California two years ago from Moulton where they had lived for many years as leaders in all good works for the town and community.

Much heavy routine work was done Monday by the Lawrence County Board of Revenue at its regular February meeting; two new members took part in their first regular meet-

Claude Sivley for the northwest district.

Misses Ethel and Maggie Young and Mrs. W. R. Jackson, were called to Albany Saturday by the death of their aunt, Mrs. Laura Seamons who has lived for several years at that place but whose home was formerly in Lawrence county where she had many friends and relatives.

Judge W. R. Jackson, and Arthur and Byron Young of Landersville attended the funeral services of Mrs. Laura Seamons at Albany Sunday afternoon.

I. B. Bradley of Dixon, Tenn., is a visitor in Moulton during the early part of this week.

Earl Aldridge went to Town Creek last week to open up a barber shop.

Bluett Young of Mount Hope was in Moulton Saturday on his way to Albany to attend the funeral services of his aunt, Mrs. Laura Seamons.

W. S. Bennis, inspector of rural school buildings and state school buildings was in Moulton Friday to examine the work being done on the county high school building. He pronounced the work of an excellent type and expressed himself as being well pleased with the buildings.

Miss Sallie Belle Watson now in training as a nurse at the Benevolent Hospital, Albany, spent Sunday with her parents east of Moulton on Route Two.

Judge J. C. Forney was wearing a happy smile all the day Saturday as it marked the Silver anniversary of his wedding.

Mrs. Mary Lee Stubbs principal of the Salem school has resigned her position, it is said that the family is to move at once to Hartsville.

G. Henry Watson, state News-Editor on the Birmingham Age-Herald staff spent Sunday with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Watson on Route Two.

Miss Vivian Mae Pettit of the Elam school was a visitor in Moulton Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Gibson who have been making their home in Florida since last summer, are returning at once to their Moulton home in the south part of town.

Frank Witt, constable in the Wolff Springs precinct and also attendance officer for that section, was in Moulton Saturday.

J. T. Speake school attendance officer in the east part of the county was in Moulton on business Saturday.

Clyde Montgomery, now teaching at Lock B on the canal, spent the weekend with his parents west of Moulton on the Landersville road.

C. R. Murphy of the Murray school Supply company, Birmingham was looking after sales of desks, etc., in Moulton the last of the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stewart and children of Albany spent the weekend with his father and other relatives in Moulton.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch McElveen and family for a year or more residents in Texas returned last week to Lawrence county for their future home.

Work on the county high school building is progressing rapidly, lathe

Zion school and Miss Daisy McCormick were guests for the weekend with Miss Long's father near Moulton.

S. L. Morrow county agent, looked after farming interests in Moulton Monday he came from the valley by way of Decatur.

You Poor Kid, Why Are You So Skinny?

Don't your mother know that Cod Liver Oil will put pounds of good healthy flesh on your bones in just a few weeks?

Tell her every druggist has it in sugar-coated tablet form now so that you won't have to take the nasty, fishy-tasting oil that is apt to upset your delicate stomach.

Tell her that McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets are chock-full of vitalizing vitamins and are the greatest flesh producers and health builders she can find.

One sickly thin kid, age 9, gained 12 pounds in 7 months.

She must ask Albany Drug Company or any good druggist for McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—the original and genuine—60 tablets—60 cents—as pleasant to take as candy.—Advt.

Joint-Ease For Creaky Joints

Just rub on the new application called Joint-Ease if you want to know what real joint comfort is.

It's for stiff, swollen, or pain-tormented joints whether caused by rheumatism or not.

A few seconds' rubbing and it soaks right in through skin and flesh right down to ligament and bone.

It oils up and limbers up the joint, subdues the inflammation and reduces the swelling. Joint-Ease is the great remedy for all joint trouble and all druggists are dispensing daily a tube for 60 cents.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint misery gets out—quie-

More Freight To Be Handled Than Ever Before

Unless all signs fail, unless all business prophets are wrong, unless every present indication is out of line, the year 1925 will see the rail transportation lines of this country confronted by the most enormous task that has ever fallen to their lot.

Handling freight expeditiously and satisfactorily requires superior equipment and constantly-maintained roadbeds. The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company, with practically all of the other great railroad lines of this nation, is spending enormous sums of money in order that it may do its share in the great job of transporting merchandise, food and other commodities from places where they are produced to places where they are consumed.
